POLICE FIND PROPERTY HIDDEN IN OLD HOUSE

Boys Did Not Know What to Do With the Field Glasses.

Two field glasses, part of the loot secured by boys in the raid on the schooner Wyman at one of the South End docks, have been recovered by the police in addition to many other articles previously located by the officers. The glasses were discovered in an old uncoupled house on Charles street, put there by the boys some weeks ago. The kids told the police that they did not know what to do with the articles after taking them from the ship and concealed them in the building and tried to forget they ever saw them.

WANT LABORATORY AT THE CITY HALL

Need It in Connection With Work in the Health Zone.

The government health officers in charge of the health zone are negotiating with city officials and the local board of health for the establishment of a laboratory in this city in connection with the work to be carried out in the interest of health and sanitary conditions in Portsmouth and the surrounding territory included in the zone.

An inspection of the upper floor of city hall was made on Friday and it is likely that it may be located in the municipal building. The government medical men are anxious that the laboratory be added to the zone as quickly as possible. The matter will likely come up before the city council at the next meeting.

TWO CARS BUMP.

At 12 o'clock today the car from Hyo bumped into a closed car standing at the head of Miller avenue and Middle street. The front of the closed car and a square of glass were broken. No one was hurt and the accident was due to the brake failing to take hold or lack of judgment of the distance between the two cars.

THE FRENCH GAIN GROUND EVERYWHERE

Make Counter Attacks Upon Germans and Take Several Hundred Prisoners in Region of Soissons—Situation in Vicinity of Rheims is Unchanged

(By Associated Press)
Paris, June 1.—The German attacks continued during the night on the western side of the new salient between Soissons and Chateau Thierry. The French made counter attacks and drove the masses of German troops in the region of Soissons and on the line of Chauden-Vierzy, gaining ground everywhere and taking several hundred prisoners.

Along the northern bank of the river Marne the Germans pushed forward advance parties from their northern and eastern borders of Chateau Thierry as far as Verny. On the French right there was sharp fighting between Dormans and Rheims. The situation is unchanged north and northwest of Rheims. The German artillery was considerably more active this morning in the sectors of Villers-Bretonneux, east of Amiens and Hebuterne, north of Albert. It is officially announced.

With the American Army in France, June 1.—Another German airplane was brought down this morning by an American pilot in an air battle near St. Mihiel in the sector northwest of Toul, according to unofficial information.

FULL MILITARY HONORS FOR DEAD NURSE

Last Sad Rites Over the Remains of Late Miss Petrie.

A large concourse of relatives, friends and acquaintances of the late Miss Evelyn Petrie, the Red Cross nurse, were present at the Congressional chapel this afternoon to pay the last tribute of love and respect which the living can render the dead.

The young woman who was so much loved and esteemed in life was buried with full military honors, in charge of Adjutant Tyrell of Fort Constitution. The body was borne by six privates from the army reservation and the same number of officers acted as the honorary pall bearers. A detachment of soldiers also escorted the remains from the home to the chapel and from there to the cemetery.

Rev. Dr. L. H. Thayer conducted the private services at the home previous to the public services at the chapel. Mrs. O. W. Priest rendered two appropriate selections, "Face to Face" and "Nearer, Still Nearer." Among the sorrowing assemblage were representatives of the Red Cross Graduate Nurses Association, Portsmouth Medical Society, Portsmouth Red Cross Chapter and the District Nursing Association.

Interment was in the Sagamore cemetery at the conclusion of which the army bugler sounded taps and the army band played a volley. Funeral Director J. Verno Wood had charge.

Before the body left Fort Oglethorpe for the north there was a full military funeral with an escort from the fort and attended by all of the nurses and the officers of the Fort, as well as the Red Cross Chapter from Chattanooga and other patriotic organizations from that city accompanied the body to the north bound train.

TRANSPORT CARRIED ONLY HER CREW

Survivors of the Torpedoed President Lincoln Picked Up By Destroyers—Also Carried Few Convalescent Soldiers

(By Associated Press)
London, June 1.—News of the torpedoing of the American troop transport President Lincoln by a German submarine while in the naval war zone yesterday, reached London today.

The ship was struck while returning home and sank in thirty minutes. Destroyers reached the scene in time to pick up survivors. The vessel carried only her crew and a few convalescent soldiers returning to the United States.

No particulars as to the casualties has as yet been received here. The Red Cross and naval headquarters have been notified but it is not likely that any of the survivors will be landed at ports in the United Kingdom. Such details as have been received here reassured the American authorities in London that the destroyers were able to pick up nearly all who survived the explosion of the torpedo.

ITALIANS DOING GOOD WORK FOR ALBANIANS

(By Associated Press)
Rome, May 30.—The Italians are doing in Albania exactly what Americans did in the Philippines in helping and uplifting a population in need of guidance and encouragement. General Clarence Seriven, Military Attaché at the American Embassy, said to the Associated Press correspondent upon his return from a journey of five weeks through that part of Albania which has been occupied by the Italians.

"Had it not been for the work of the Italians there, the poor Albanians would have starved," General Seriven said. "The Italians have given these people food, employment, education and security. Wheat, corn and rice have been imported into the country and the foodstuffs have been distributed free to the indigent and sold at reasonable prices to those who could afford to pay for it. Experimental farms have been opened, schools have been instituted and, most important of all, courts of justice which hitherto had been nonexistent in the country, have been established and Albanian judges placed at their heads wherever possible.

"Although the Italians are fighting the Bulgarians and the Austrians on the frontiers, the work there is not a work of war but one of civilization, and the ground there is most favorable to such work for the reason that the Albanian is an honest man of good character, possessing the primitive virtues of courage, truthfulness and activity. He has the highest respect for women, who can travel from one end of Albania to the other alone.

ALLIES FORCED BACK TO THE MARNE RIVER

(By Associated Press)
Paris, May 31.—German attacks upon the French front on the Aisne river have been repulsed. The Germans have reached the Marne river front detachments having penetrated to the river between Charleville and Jaulgonne.

On the right flank the battle area the situation is unchanged and it is the same west and north of Rheims.

Plunging southward with its momentum still unchecked the German war machine has driven its wedge into the allied line to the Marne river near Pre-en-Tardenois. The desperate efforts of the British and French have only served to slow down the rate of speed. The defenders of the heights about the Marne seem to have swept away in the onrush of the German hordes.

The Germans have extended their attack north of the Aisne river, and the battle line has been extended to the east of Rheims, along the side of the salient formed by the German wedge and the French and British.

South of Soissons the French has defended its position and broke up every attempt to advance at this point. On the other side the British are still holding the forts about Rheims and throwing back all attacks.

The enemy occupied the Chateau Thierry, marks the beginning of the expected movement toward Paris. The attacks along the Aisne river it is thought are made by the Germans in their efforts to seek to prevent the Allies making a counter attack at this point.

Gen. Foch has not as yet brought up his reserves, although all accounts from the front indicate that the French and British have been greatly outnumbered.

The German official reports claim that they have taken 45,000 prisoners and in excess of 400 guns and thousands of machine guns since their present attack began last Monday. This may be compared to the claims of the Germans that they took 90,000 prisoners and 1300 guns from March 21 to April 2.

American soldiers are in an attack in Meuse. At Cantigny they have repulsed repeated attacks, the Germans last night deluged the American position with high explosives, but all effort to carry out an assault were repulsed with heavy losses.

In the Tol sector the Americans have carried on an attack in which they penetrated the German position for the distance of half a mile and destroyed the enemies position and took prisoners.

German airplanes are adding to the horror of the attack by deliberately bombing the hospital back of the line receiving the wounded. One was destroyed and the Canadian hospital was set fire.

MILLIONS BEING MOVED BY THE NAVY

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 31.—Declaring that the Navy is doing noble work in keeping open the road to France for the hundreds of thousands of American soldiers already there, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, in an impromptu address here yesterday, declared the proper movement will reach the million mark in a few weeks; that in a few months the two million mark will have been reached and that ten million or more men will be sent if need be to win the war. The Secretary expressed unlimited confidence in the Navy's ability to wipe out the submarine evil. "We are building destroyers by the scores and we will build them by the hundreds," he declared. "We will equip them with submarine such as you have sent from Wilkesbarre until it will not be possible for a submarine to exist in the ocean. In this war the Navy's business has been to hunt submarines. We have hunted them and will continue to hunt them until they shall not dare to appear as assassins of the sea."

THE BLACK CROSS OF DEATH

(From the Worcester Telegram)
The shadow of the iron cross, the most deadly the world has ever known without counting the dead of battlefields, or conflicts at sea, by the incidents of either to which men are slain in more or less excusable ways, go to once today with its unsparing starvation of at least 15,000,000 people for death from diseases caused by insufficient nourishment within the last three years. United States Food Administrator Herbert C. Hoover says there is no doubt of that. He claims that number of lives sacrificed to hunger in the districts of Europe governed by the military power of Germany. It is the Kaiser's blight, cultured in Kultur. Those figures do not include the victims of starvation, and incidental diseases whose lives have been lost in German prisons, or those who have been carried out as indicated by the dispatch which says: "Arrival at Petrograd of the first contingent of 1500 Russian prisoners to be exchanged under the recent Russo-German agreement is reported. The 1500 are 'veritable walking dead men.' These wrecks of humanity came from the war-prisons in Germany where they had been forced to work beyond human endurance, besides being starved by mismanagement, American, Englishmen and men of France and other nations are largely living under similar conditions. Their numbers are liable to increase as the war goes on. Some of them will not emerge as 'walking dead men.' The devil in the Kaiser is only partly made into bullets and shells. The great percentage of it is starvation for human beings."

She also wrote "Over the Top" for the Y. M. C. A. drive in Cleveland which made a big hit and which the Shuberts have taken for their play of that title.

LONDON PRAISES AMERICANS

London, May 31.—Commenting on the capture of Cantigny by the Americans the Evening News says: "Bravo! The young Americans! Nothing in today's battle, narratively from the front, is more exhilarating than the account of their fight at Cantigny. It was clean-cut from beginning to end, like one of their countrymen's short stories, and the story of Cantigny is going to expand into a full length novel, which will write the doom of the Kaiser and Kaiserism."

"We expected it. We have seen these young Americans in London, and merely to glance at them was to know that they are conquerors and brothers in that great Anglo-Saxon-Latin compact which will bring down the diabolical Prussian idol, with its insidious and calculated infamies, to enhance civilization humanity again."

"They do not swaggar and they have no war illusions. They have done their first job with swift precision, characteristic of the United States, and Cantigny will one day be repeated a thousandfold. On that day the Kaiser's crown will go to the Allied museum."

TEA IS NOT A FOOD.

(By Associated Press)
London, May 30.—Tea is not a food within the meaning of the British food controller's order against hoarding, according to a decision handed down by the King's Bench division of the High Court of Justice.

The case under review was that of a woman who had been fined £250 for accumulating 122 pounds of England's favorite beverage. The controller's anti-hoarding order reads: "For the purpose of this order the expression 'article of food' shall include every article which is used for food by man, or which ordinarily enters into the composition or preparation of human food."

The court said: "Unless tea could be got within the word 'food' it could not come within the prohibition. The appellant acquired dry tea leaves. No body, eat, tea leaves. So that what she ate was something different from what she bought. If she had acquired a drink there would have been no prosecution. It would be straining the order to say that the word 'food' includes tea leaves."

that an upholstery department in a furniture store is only a dirty den occupied by a bewhiskered old fossil who tears the stuffing out of mattresses, shakes it once or twice, and sews it in again. Not so, in this place at least. Our upholstery department is managed by a man who has had the best kind of training—years of practical experience. He knows his business and how best to serve you. Not only does his branch of this store renovate, make and clean mattresses. His work includes refinishing, patching, upholstering old and valuable furniture; relining baby carriages, making cushions for canoes, chairs and window seats and even sets of bases for baseball diamonds. The Worst Kind of Slacking.

This paper recently had something to say on the danger of overdoing the cry of "Slacker!" with reference to young men who have not yet been called into the service for perfectly proper reasons. They are liable to be called and are ready to respond when the call comes, and for this reason they should be spared the annoyance and humiliation of being regarded as slackers.

But it seems that there are men who have well earned the opprobrium which the term, "slacker," implies. These are men who have left the country, or are preparing to do so, in order to escape the draft. Attorney General Gregory is authority for this assertion. "It has been brought to my attention," he says, "that a number of men of conscription age have left, and that even now occasionally others are leaving the country to evade military service."

It would seem that under the present registration system it ought to be possible to prevent this, but apparently there are ways for men to get out who are unpatriotic and cowardly enough to desert their country in time of need. To do such a thing is to sink to the despicable level of the Hun, and the fact that there are young men willing to do it is enough to bring the blush of shame to every honest American face.

But if the government keeps its word this form of slacking will prove poor business for those who engage in it. It is announced that when they return to enjoy the fruits of sacrifice in which they had no part they will be prosecuted for violation of the selective service act and made to suffer the full penalty in case of conviction; or, if they stay away they will become expatriates with all future rights of United States citizenship denied them.

These penalties are none too severe. To flee the country at a time like this, when young patriots are going by the tens of thousands to the front to risk their lives in the cause of world freedom, and when the people at home are sparing no effort and evading no sacrifice to back them up, is a most cowardly and despicable act, and any man who will do this forfeits the respect of all decent people. It is painful to reflect that there are men calling themselves Americans who will do this, but it seems that there are, and it is to be hoped that the government when the war is over will not recede from its determination to deal with them according to their deserts.

These absconders are slackers in the fullest sense of the word and will deserve and receive no sympathy when the fruits of their cowardly conduct come home to them. In the meantime if there is not now a way to prevent this sort of emigration a way should be provided, and that immediately.

The coming Fourth of July is to be very quiet so far as fireworks are concerned, nevertheless there is going to be something doing. It will be the greatest day in the history of the country for the launching of ships, vessels that have been built to play their part in the war. At San Francisco nine ships will be launched, and many of the other shipyards will be heard from. These launchings will not make as much noise as fireworks, but they will carry a far more distinct note to the Kaiser.

The Newmarket Manufacturing Company and the people of that town are to be congratulated on the completion of the large addition to the weaving room, which was appropriately celebrated Saturday night. This means an increase of business for the company and the town and an increase of workers to share in the general prosperity.

The Portsmouth high school has a proud war record, having 69 pupils or graduates in the service, with possibly more to be heard from. When this war is over Portsmouth will have no occasion to regret that it failed to bear its full share of the burden of suffering and sacrifice.

It is a little early yet for canning, but in some places sugar for the purpose is ready for delivery. The Food Administration will endeavor to keep a close watch of the business and see to it that there is no "canning" of sugar.

The memorial service to be held on the second Sunday in June by the firemen will be an event of interest to the people of the city as well as to the men who protect the property of the city against the worst of all dangers.

It has been made plain that young men are not to escape registration by being away from home. Their names must go on the lists wherever they happen to be, and must be duly forwarded to the home boards.

The Mooney case in California reminds us all that it is easier to lynch a man in this country than it is to hang one according to law.

They Hunt in Couples Now
(From the Kansas City Times)
The "Almighty Dollar" is no longer the potentate of other days. A dollar doesn't get much of anywhere nowadays without a partner.

Too Much White House Wool
(From the Pittsburgh Gazette Times)
Some energetic song-writer ought to bring out an up-to-date version of that old-time favorite, "What's the Matter with the Mail?"

"Living" in No Man's Land
(From the Pittsburgh Gazette Times)
It is quite proper to interrupt any long-winded dissertation on the high cost of living with a remark something like this: "Yes, but how about the high cost of living in No Man's Land? Make a donation to the Red Cross and then go on with your story."

HOOVERIZING ON SALUTES
(From Our Navy)
In these days of high prices on articles required in actual warfare, how about doing away permanently with saluting charges? Can't we honor our President, admirals, secretaries, etc., without bringing away a wad of perfectly good money into the zone? Is that a practical war policy? When Henry Ford visits his great manufacturing plants his employees are mightily glad to welcome him, and they surely do honor him, but when Henry Ford steps into the Ford plant nobody drops twenty-one monkey wrenches down a well in his honor!

Can't This Be Stopped?
(From the Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger)
Several hundred miners have been taken from the anthracite region by the draft within a day or two.

This is a mistake. We cannot win the war without coal and we cannot get coal without miners. The English learned this early in the war and they had to send over thousands of miners to their armies thousands of miners who had been put in uniform.

We knew of the number the English made and we were warned against it, but those in authority seem to have ignored the warning.

It is about time a system was worked out for exempting from the draft the men engaged in occupations necessary to the conduct of the war. At present there seems to be no system.

THE WORLD'S SUPREME MOMENT
(Rev. George T. Dowling, D. D., in The Never since Calvary has there been so Supreme a moment in the world's history as we are witnessing now. It is no figure of speech when I say it; it is the awful fact, that on yonder field of Flanders all the forces of Hell are in death grapple with the forces of Righteousness, determining the question, apparently, for all time, whether the future of this world shall be Christian or Pagan, Civilized or Barbarian, a Slave World or Free. We are at war. It is a real war. We have got to beat them or they will beat us. And if that should happen—then the deluge!

JUST THINK ABOUT IT
(Rev. John F. Cowan, D. D., in Christian Endeavor World)
How many of us are standing against the Mormon menace to Christ's Church? Take this little squib to heart. A churchman from Boston stopped off in Salt Lake City and went to see the Mormon Tabernacle. Meeting a little girl, he began a conversation. "Are you a little Mormon?"

"Yes, sir, I go to Sunday school in this building. Where do you go?" "I am from Boston," replied the tourist with a conscious glow. Do you know about him?"

"Oh, yes, sir, I know, because my Sunday school class supports a Mormon missionary here."

And you who have never given a cent or struck a lick against this predatory evil that is even now planning to take Hawaii, a State and to own the senators from the new state, in which it claims to have ten thousand converts, and so control the United States Senate, which it has already managed to sway by its balance of power in at least one instance: you who read complacently what your home mission board prints about "this same old polygamous crowd," do you know that while you are keeping your mouth shut and minding your own business, the Mormon hierarchy is buying space in the big newspapers to preach polygamy?

War Is a Worship
(From the Churchman)
"When war is for the common weal, then war is worship, war is prayer," Tertullian? No, this came from Boston and was spoken at the meeting in Philadelphia of the League to Enforce Peace. Virile and statesmanlike utterances were made at this great meeting where nearly 4000 of America's best citizens gathered to discuss the issues of the war. We believe that every peace-loving American is heartily in sympathy with the "war to the finish" attitude of this fine organization of which Mr. Taft is the president.

But does America need to be goaded on to see her duty and get it done by caustic exaggerations such as that of Mr. Plene's which we have quoted Above? It really does not help to make war more effective by identifying it with worship. The soldier himself in the trenches has no such illusions. He is far more sane and a good deal more reverent. War is a necessary but a horrible business. Prayer and worship are words not to be loosely uttered. Is there to be no holy of holies in life left, unmeasured by the temporary passions of war? The men who see war at its worst, and best, who are sure, would have us show a little more reverence in our patriotic fervor.

KEEP MOVING
(From the Brooklyn Eagle)
If anti-lounging laws and orders go much further it will soon be a prison offence to stop and think, thinking being a nonessential activity. Emerson will need revision as much as Walt Whitman.

Carranza and the Buzz Saw
(From the New York Herald)
So Carranza, at the instance of his German friends, is hitting at Cuba, and through Cuba, at the United States.

Carranza is looking for trouble. Is it merely coincidence that he should have developed this acute case of anti-Americanism at the same time he was fixed by the Kaiser for his expected revolution in Ireland? It will be difficult for Americans to believe that there is no relation between the two events; but it will not be difficult for them, even if it is for Carranza, to understand that the one venture is as certain as the other to turn out a failure.

Evidence has been accumulating for some months to prove that Carranza and his associates are under the influence of German agents. The anti-American campaign conducted by the portion of the Mexico City press under German ownership or control and enjoying the patronage of the Carranza government has been steadily more bitter. Recently it has broadened out its attacks to include Canada and Cuba, as well, those countries being charged with conspiring with the United States to invade Mexico.

It is manifest that the Zimmermann programme never has been abandoned by Germany. Every indication points to many of the persons holding high position in the Mexican Government being in Germany's pay.

A 100 Per Cent Patriot
(From the Baltimore Star)

Lin F. Hanson, a young farmer of Nebraska, is a one-hundred per cent patriot. Not only one-hundred per cent American—for there are, it is to be regretted, many one-hundred per cent Americans who are not even fifty per cent patriots. Young Hanson answered the call of his country, as the disciples answered the call of their Master; he disposed of everything he possessed and gave himself to the cause. He sold his farm and from the proceeds gave $3800 to the Red Cross—gave it outright instead of putting it in a bank—loaned $5500 to Uncle Sam by investing it in Liberty Bonds and then enlisted. What more could a man do? President Wilson, when he heard of Hanson's patriotic action, wrote him a personal letter, praising him for offering himself for service and for throwing his fortunes unreservedly with those of his country. Here is an example to be followed. Do those who stay at home wish to emulate him? Can one read of the loyalty of this Nebraska farmer, whose name is Norwegian and not Anglo-Saxon, without being spurred to deeds of self-sacrifice and denial? From now on there is going to be a steady demand on the home folks for money for this and for that war relief work. The Red Cross and all other quasi-military and religious organizations must have funds. The sale of Liberty Bonds and Thrift Stamps will continue. To answer the calls a certain amount of self-denial will be required. Prepare for it. Make yourself into a one-hundred per cent patriot.

CANDIDATES FOR THE ROPE

(From the New York World)
If the Government in London has a proof, as it says that the Irish-American intrigues with Germany are still in progress and that, in important features of every plan, even now is the "establishment" of submarine bases in Ireland to menace the shipping of all nations, our poverished Sinn Féiners and Clan-na-Gaels have done more than given aid and comfort to the enemy. They have in fact made war upon the United States, and on conviction deserve to be hanged by the neck until dead.

We have in this case an accusation going far beyond anything yet developed in our numerous prosecutions for sedition and espionage. The offense alleged is not to be excused or explained as due to pacifism or constructive criticism or eratic frenzy. No hatred of England can justify plots to sink American transports. No devotion to Ireland can be pleaded in defence of crimes so monstrous.

Besides the imperative duty of self-protection, the United States Government is likewise bound, in fairness to loyal Irish-Americans, good citizens and good soldiers, to go to the bottom of these hideous charges. A race misrepresented will follow with a nation vindictive if traitorous guilt established, and sternest measures of justice shall fall swiftly and unerringly.

A CALL FOR POLITICAL PEACE

(From the New York Times)
Mr. Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, talks like a man of sense, a sound patriot and American. "All political issues," he says, "must be subordinated to that one uppermost cause, that of winning the war." To win the war we must have "absolute political peace at home, industrial peace as well." "The world must know that we are united in our purpose of winning the war."

Political peace means, or should mean, that while the Republicans will vote for Republicans that support the war heartily and Democrats for Democrats that support the war heartily, every candidate whose loyalty is doubtful or lukewarm will be rejected by his party; the polls, that, as against such a candidate, Republicans will vote for a war Democrat, Democrats for a war Republican; that, wherever the Socialists are strong, Democrats and Republicans will unite on the war candidate, Democrat or Republican, who is the strongest.

That is what the Times conceives to be Mr. Hays's idea. In any case, that is the duty, of both parties. Democrats and Republicans stand by Mr. Wilson for peace with victory. Old-fashioned, "red-hot," straight Democratic talk such as Mr. Champ Clark, for example, sometimes permits himself to indulge in, falls on deaf ears. Differ as they may, on essentials, the two parties are one, they form a union party on the sole essential duty of beating Germany. By such a union on substantial, by a peace of truce of the old rival political warfare, the American part in bringing about victorious peace will be furthered. There should be no winking of party tom-toms. The one party now is the United States.

THE HARMLESS BARBERRY

(From the Chicago Tribune)

There is a harmless barberry, the familiar Japanese variety found in the parks and many gardens, berries bluish-black. This grows low, and may easily be distinguished from the tall common variety, which includes also the tall purple leaved variety, of late years planted more frequently than the green leaved.

The harmless Japanese barberry has a leaf with smooth edge, the harmful rust-spreading tall barberry has a saw-tooth leaf. Last year's twigs of the Japanese are reddish brown, of the harmful variety dark or gray. The berries of the Japanese are single usually, sometimes in groups of two or three; that of the tall barberry in a cluster on one main stem. The Japanese has a single spine or thorn; the tall barberry has three-pointed thorns.

Every tall common barberry, green leaved or purple, is an enemy alien, to be interned in a bonfire. It's a patriotic duty to hunt out every one.

GREATEST CIRCUS IS COMING SOON

There is to be a real circus day this year—a Barnum & Bailey circus day. Advance guards of the Greatest Show on Earth announce that this season's route carries it close enough to be visited by everybody in this vicinity. Thirty acres of tents will be set, and the show will be exhibited in Manchester, on June 7.

A wonderful new program is promised, and it is claimed that this season the monster entertainment has more and better things to show than ever before. Starting with a magnificent pageant entitled, "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp," the circus will occupy three hours or more with events in air, on platform, and rings, and in the huge hippodrome surrounding. Not one moment will be lost in all of the spaces of the vast enclosure. The opening feature is the first attempt at Chinese pagantry in the history of American circuses, and it has been described as the most gorgeous presentation ever attempted. The story of the gentle slave of the magic lamp is too well known to need description here. However, it may be well to call attention to the possibilities for display in coloring and magnificent settings in the Chinese locale, and to the fact that Barnum & Bailey have spent $100,000 to reproduce all of its glorious possibilities.

The circus program, which follows the pageant, is made up almost entirely of names and acts new to American public, the cream of all continental circuses having rushed to the big show's European agents for booking on account of the closing of most of the big foreign circuses. There is a complete Chinese circus, replete with thrilling aerial and acrobatic feats; the famous Hanneford family, champion riders of Europe, will display their wonderful skill; Signor Bagnoni, the dwarf horseback rider, deigned as the equestrian comic of the century, will thrill and convulse with laughter; Pallenberg's wonderful bears will ride on high bicycles, skate and perform on the trapeze; there will be more clowns than ever before, and in the menagerie will be seen many new specimens of wild and untamed animals. There are a dozen of new baby animals in the great zoo. There will be more than one hundred acts, and to name and describe them would occupy too much space.

The parade, which is entirely new, will start from the show grounds in Manchester, as nearly 10 o'clock in the morning as possible. It will be three miles in length and there will be six bands, three callioles and a steam piano to create music for the marching throng.

Commends Boston Yard

A letter has been received from Secretary Daniels congratulating employees of the Boston navy yard for their work during the Red Cross drive. The total raised by the civilian workers and the enlisted men was $40,000. The letter from Secretary Daniels to Commandant Rush follows:

"Please extend my congratulations to officers, enlisted personnel and civilian employees at Boston navy yard, upon their magnificent record in contribution to the Red Cross. This is but one of the evidences of sterling patriotism and splendid spirit of the men at the Boston Yard."

Arthur Wood, field director of the Red Cross, also wrote to Commandant Rush, saying that by their work the employees of the yard have convinced the country that it "is a 100 percent yard."

DAM WAS IMPROPERLY CONSTRUCTED

Concord, June 1.—Chief Engineer John W. Storrs of the public service commission, said today that the break in the dam at Hill was due to an improper foundation for the dam. Mr. Storrs made an examination early yesterday morning and was in Hill again, today and he said there could be no doubt that the water had broken through underneath the dam. He scouted any theory that had tampered with the dam by pro-Germans or any other maliciously disposed persons.

Efforts are being made to repair the lighting and power systems of the town and it is expected that the difficulties will be overcome shortly. The town water supply will be turned on again tomorrow morning and the residents of the town no longer will be forced to carry water in pails from wells and brooks as they had had to do since the dam gave way. The repair work is as early as possible and while there are difficulties in the matter of transferring power, the public service commission is disposed to cut all red tape so that the power may be supplied immediately.

Negotiations are now under way to connect the town up with outside power and unless some satisfactory arrangement is made by the regular power company in short order, it is likely the commission will authorize an outside company, probably Eugene Carpenter's in Bristol, to supply the necessary power.

NEWINGTON

Newington, June 1.—The farmers are now rushing their planting as that they can finish soon. The scarcity of labor is being felt about here and one has to do as they can and not as they want to.

The work on the Newington and Dover Point bridge is progressing. The work will take a longer time than it was thought that it would, but all are thankful that although the job will take a long time we shall by fall once more have a bridge over the Piscataqua. It is said that we never prize our blessings until we lose them, and the people all about never realized how necessary the bridge was until it was swept away and traveling in that direction was closed.

Over two thousand men are now working at the shipyard. Small houses and tents have been erected for those who work at the yard and they form a little village in that vicinity.

The Heaper's Circle met on Wednesday afternoon. After the business was transacted the ladies enjoyed a social hour while they sewed and knitted.

The cemetery never looked prettier than on Memorial Day. Not only were the soldiers' graves decorated but nearly all others, even those who had no relatives living some friend dropped some flowers, which showed that they were remembered.

Nearly every family or some member of it in town and those from out of town who own lots visited this resting place of those who have gone to their eternal home and left a token of their love and esteem.

The pupils of the primary and grammar schools gave a pleasing Memorial entertainment at the town hall on Tuesday evening. The opening exercises consisted of playing by the orchestra, which was composed of three boys from Portsmouth, a flag salute and the singing of "Star Spangled Banner" by both schools. Then followed recitations and songs and all was rendered in a creditable manner and deserved special mention but refrain from doing so because it would require too much space. At the close "America" was sung and the orchestra played. The parents and friends of the pupils enjoyed looking at the children's hand-work. The boys showed how interested they are in manual training and the girls' kimonos and other articles proved that they knew how to use a needle. Too much praise cannot be given the pupils but much praise and credit should be bestowed upon the teachers who have labored so patiently and faithfully with the children under their care and supervision.

Miss Corinne Sutter of Lynn, is passing a few days with Miss Flora Hoyt.

Mrs. Josephine Hoyt has returned home from Boston and vicinity where she has been for the past month visiting relatives.

Miss Rosamond Lefavour of Winchester is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Justin Rand.

Miss Martha Hoyt, who is employed at the Navy Yard, passed Memorial Day with her parents here.

The friends of Mr. Freelingham Moody will be pleased to hear that he is improving and able to sit up.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, son and daughter, of Portsmouth, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett on Thursday.

A Pittsfield man turned in at a local hotel at midnight. Pretty soon he was awakened by a whistle blowing. Supposing it was 1 o'clock in the afternoon the hour when he is supposed to report for duty, he hustled out of bed and up street, only to find that it was the 8 o'clock morning whistle that had tooted.

WHY CANNOT THIS CITY HAVE PUBLIC MARKET?

Has Proven a Success in Manchester and Is to Open for Second Season There.

The public market maintained by the Manchester Food committee on Concord common will open for its second season on Wednesday, June 13, and will be open for business on Wednesdays and Saturdays thereafter until late in the fall.

If a public market has been proven a success in Manchester, why can't Portsmouth establish one?

The business hours will be between 6 o'clock in the morning and noon on Wednesdays, and from 6 in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon on Saturdays, the latter hours being arranged for the benefit of the gardeners who have Saturdays in which to work in their garden and also sell the produce of their produce on the same day.

The food committee met yesterday afternoon and adopted resolutions to govern the market, these being worked out in the light of last year's experience. They will be published in detail, shortly, so that every marketman may have a copy.

On the morning of the opening day there will be a drawing for stalls by the gardeners, the stalls being numbered, and the applicants holding the numbers they draw by lot for the entire season. In case, however, that a stallholder does not appear in his berth before 9 o'clock on any market day, his stall will be assigned, according to fixed rule, to another produce seller.

The selling end of the market is for the use of producers only. It is for those who raise the goods they have to sell, either on farms, at their homes or in war gardens. They may sell chickens and fowl, whole or cut, beef, pork, mutton, whole or in quarters, but it must be of their own production. It will not be permissible to sell in the market what is bought there, or bought elsewhere.

Other regulations prohibit combinations for price-fixing, and loud announcing of goods for sale, and require that board of health regulations shall be observed, and all weights and measures tested. No packages of goods may be sold unless the weight or contents are made fully known. Violations will lead to forfeiture of all rights to sell in the market.

COUPLE WED BY TELEGRAPH

Kansas City, June 1.—Although separated by more than 1800 miles Mrs. Goldie Orick, until last night Mrs. Goldie Carden of Lenape, Kansas, and Private Homer T. Orick, a machine gunner stationed at Camp Mills, N. Y., today were celebrating the first day of their married life.

The ceremony which made them man and wife was performed by telegraph. The bride sat in a commercial telegraph office in Kansas City, Kansas, a minister asking the questions which were then flashed to the army camp, where they were received by the camp operator, who in turn transmitted those put by the officiating minister at that end of the wire.

Mrs. Orick said the probability of her husband being sent overseas very soon hastened the wedding.

HOW THE MEN AT NEWINGTON YARD CONTRIBUTED

We believe it will be of interest to the people of Dover, Portsmouth and elsewhere, to know how generously and gladly the employees of L. H. Shattuck, Inc., have poured out their contributions to the Second Red Cross War Fund. Every man at this Newington Shipbuilding Plant has paid direct to the fund of $543.18; collected at the shipyard, or has shown receipts for payments elsewhere and a great many have done both.

A large proportion of these men wished their donations to be credited to their home cities, with the result that nearly two hundred and fifty New England towns and cities are represented.

Dover leads with a total of $1474.09, Portsmouth next with $1039.43; Manchester, $981.79; Newington, $198.05; Rochester, $125.81; Somersworth, $123.47; Amesbury, $114.00, and other cities range from a single contribution to amounts approximating the above.

North Hampton had $37.32; New Castle, $12.50; Hampton, $62.37; Conway, $16.75; Epping, $43.31; Littleton, $37.70.

GAVE DEMONSTRATION TALK

Miss Dorothy Emerson, who is in charge of the home demonstration food emergency work in this district spoke at the Farnagut school Wednesday evening, giving a demonstration of corn meal. Miss Emerson gave a talk yesterday noon before the pupils of the high school and gave a demonstration of foods suitable for lunch boxes. She talked also on the subject of "Greens," urging the eating of the same now for the winter's use. She told that the iron they contain makes them of particular value in the diet since we are apt to have that element deficient in our food. The subject of the fireless cooker was also discussed. In these times when every moment counts such a labor saving and fuel saving device is well worth owning. Directions for making inexpensive home made fireless cookers may be found at the office of Miss Emerson or by writing to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Monday afternoon Miss Emerson will go to Hampton to talk on canning at Hampton Academy. On Tuesday she will go to Newington to talk on the same subject, having a round table discussion in the open under the trees. On Wednesday she will go to Rye to have a demonstration on "Greens" and will give the same talk at North Hampton on Thursday. At Hampton Falls on Friday she will review the work and on Saturday will be at her office in this city.

PLANT A FLOWER, TOO

(From the Milwaukee Journal.) Almost everybody with a bit of land at his disposal is planting a war garden these days. It is the patriotic thing to do. And the green things will taste mighty fine by and by. Fresh picked as needed, they will taste much better than the kind bought at the store. But, while we are planting radishes and peas and beans and corn and potatoes and the rest, let us save a little room for a few flowers. Their beauty will cheer us later.

The world needs vegetables for the upkeep of the body. And it needs flowers to keep up its soul.

WORK FOR LOCAL CHAPTER OF RED CROSS

Members Are Asked to Furnish 900 Pairs of Socks and 145 Sweaters This Month.

The largest allotment of knitted goods yet demanded of the Portsmouth Chapter of the Red Cross has been made for the month of June.

This chapter has been asked to furnish 900 pairs of socks and 145 sweaters, in addition to several dozen wristers, mufflers and other articles. To do this work the Chapter will require the united efforts of all of those who knit, and there is no better cause, for these socks will be shipped at once to France for the American army in the front line trenches or training back of the line.

The Chapter had been warned of the heavy allotment and had secured a large amount of wool yarn, so that the committee on knitting will be at the work rooms in the Elks Home on Monday afternoon to give out the yarn and to receive finished goods.

Owing to the fact that there has been a shortage of gauze and that the local Chapter has not received its shipment, there will be no work on the surgical dressing on Monday or Tuesday evening. This shipment is expected in a few days and the work will be resumed as soon as it arrives.

Peter N. Renger of Danville, Ill., president of the Eastern Illinois Druggists' Association, will either drop his middle initial or spell the name Xavier in full in the future. A document he sent to Washington was returned with the question as to why he had made his "mark" and not signed his name.

More than 3000 women and girls were on parade recently in the opening of the Red Cross drive in Madison county, Ind. Only four men were in the parade. Two were bandmasters, one drove a float and another rode in an ambulance.

WANTS TO BE COUNTY TREASURER

Oscar E. Huse, of Hampton, Announces His Candidacy.

Oscar E. Huse of Hampton has announced his candidacy for the position of County Treasurer of Rockingham County. Mr. Huse was born in Newington, N. H., and has always been a resident of this county. He is a graduate of New Hampshire College class of 1912, with the degree of B. S.

Soon after his graduation, Mr. Huse married Marion E. Colpitts, of Forest Glen, New Brunswick, and they now live with their three children on the Captain James place on the Hampton Exeter Road.

In the fall of 1912 he organized the Rockingham County Y. M. C. A. and spent nearly three years as active secretary. This organization has meant much to the boys and young men of Rockingham County and is still being carried on successfully. In the spring of 1917 he was appointed Food Organizer of Rockingham County by Mr. Hambley N. Spaulding and Mr. Spaulding said of him at the close of the work that he had been the most successful organizer in the state. Following his work with the State Food Committee, Mr. Huse became Agricultural Agent for the First National Bank of Portsmouth and later Bank Agent for the Rockingham County Farmers' Association.

Mr. Huse has a splendidly equipped office with a well-trained office force in Exeter and with his experience and knowledge of the county is well fitted to serve as County Treasurer.

K. OF C. TEAM DEFEAT MORLEY NINE 3 TO 2

The Knights of Columbus defeated the Morley team in a very fast and well played game in the Sunset league, scheduled on Friday evening. Both Driscoll for the Knights and Hammer for the Morley pitched good ball and they got fine support, the Knights infield saying Driscoll his game by fast work pulling two double plays that were especially good.

The Morley also gave Hammer good support, playing without an error but they were unable to gain the lead that the Knights got by the first inning. The feature of the game were the two doubles by Estabrook, Hughes and Bailey for the Knights and the fast fielding of Doll.

The Knights scored all of their runs in the first inning after Estabrook had struck out, Hughes singled to left, but was forced at second on Hughes' grounder to Marden. Mandy singled, advancing Bailey and both scored on McCullough's triple to center, and he scored on Kennedy's single. Doll retiring the side, put a fly to Bailey.

They got three men on in the second when Hammer gave passes but they failed to score, and not another man reached second.

The Morleys scored in the first, hitting Sorotte reaching first on Estabrook's error of his grounder. Driscoll issued passes to Marden and Harrington and Sorotte scored on Bailey's roller to Estabrook which he fumbled. Marden was nipped at the plate when he tried to score on McCabe's ball to Driscoll, the side was retired on a fast double, Hammer hitting to Estabrook who forced McCabe at second and Hughes doubled Hammer at first.

They were out in order the next two innings, Driscoll striking out the first three men up in the third, but in the fourth they filled the bases on Bailey's single and two passes, but did not score. In the fifth Sorotte and Marden singled, but Harrington fanned and Bailey hit into a double retiring the side. They made a good try to tie the score in the seventh when Sorotte hit to Doll who dropped the ball, but Marden was run down between second and third. Marden struck out and Sorotte scored when Harrington tripled to left which Doll fielded fast and threw Harrington out.

'VARSITY EIGHT- OARED CREWS TO MEET

New Haven, Conn., May 31.—The "Varsity eight-oared crews" of Yale and Harvard Universities will meet on the Housatonic river near here late tomorrow afternoon. In the fifty-first annual regatta between these famous collegiate rivals since the institution of the initial race in 1852. Never, however, in the long history of this annual regatta, which corresponds in many respects to the Oxford-Cambridge boat races of England, has the regatta been held under similar conditions. In a war-time atmosphere and with the contest short of all of its gala glamour the sixteen oarsmen will propel the long, sleek shells over a new course which has never heretofore been the scene of a varsity boat race. It will be in place of the four-mile grueling struggle, which has been staged annually upon the Thames river at New London for many years; for the accompanying of thousands of cheering spectators and the screaming sirens of hundreds of palladium steam yachts, the sweepstake will drive their craft through two miles of still river water which has never been graced by racing eights in the past.

The conditions governing the race and the crews will be unlike those of former years, as the courses are dissimilar. No weeks of intensive training under highly paid professional coaches at expensive, and exclusive crew quarters precede the regatta, with its goal of long rows, several times a day, under the eyes of the coaches following in speedy launches. Instead the training has become, to a great extent, an avocation with only such time as the oarsmen could conveniently spare from their scholastic duties, devoted to learning the art of sweep swinging as taught by men to whom rowing is a matter of secondary importance.

While the regatta will undoubtedly be witnessed by several thousands of spectators, providing the weather conditions are favorable, there is no likelihood of the blizzarding of the fully dressed throngs, which is sweeping down upon New London in other seasons, made the hot race one of the feature spectacles of the college year.

There are no signs tonight of the color vendors and the ticket speculators who had grown to be an integral part of all great American varsity sport contests in the past two decades. To all intents and purposes the war has accomplished in a trifle more than twelve months what the ardent reformers of college athletics were unable to bring about in some years.

Few visitors are in evidence here this evening and only an occasional pennant of Yale blue or Harvard crimson is seen in the mass of American flags and national emblems which fly from public and private buildings throughout the city. Those who will watch the race tomorrow will travel by motor, trolley or train, late in the afternoon, to a point above Derby on the Housatonic, some eight or ten miles from the center of New Haven, and from points of vantage along the high banks of the river view the battling oarsmen as they sweep by to victory and defeat.

While the Housatonic course has never been used for an inter-varsity race it has been tested by Yale crews and found to be generally satisfactory. The river is not particularly wide or deep but affords ample space for two crews over considerable stretches. A portion of the five mile course near Derby will be used for tomorrow's events. Here the river averages about a quarter of a mile in width and close to ten feet in depth. High banks protect the river, giving a calm surface for racing and at the same time providing excellent observation points for the spectators.

A railroad paralleling the course on one side and a trolley line on the

MR. ENTWISTLE HAS MADE THE TEST

Portsmouth People Will Get the Benefit.

There's nobody in Portsmouth better known than Thomas Entwistle, a well-known Portsmouth citizen residing at 37 Cabot street, and in giving his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills, for the benefit of Portsmouth kidney sufferers, he has nothing whatever to gain.

Why experiment with unknown or imitation kidney remedies when you have such a good reason to try Doan's? Profit by the test Mr. Entwistle has made for you.

"I had been troubled for a long time with pains in my back, lameness across my kidneys and general kidney disorder," says Mr. Entwistle. "Doan's Kidney Pills, secured at Phillips' Pharmacy, permanently cured me. I have recommended them to several of my friends and I know that they have proven of benefit in every case."

Over ten years later, Mr. Entwistle said: "I can always say a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills and heartily back up my former recommendation. I have never had occasion to change my high opinion of them."

other, according means for observation to follow the crews when conditions warrant these moving grandstands.

In some respects the race tomorrow will resemble those of the earlier days of the dual regatta of Harvard and Yale. The first contest between the freshmen of these two universities was a two mile contest rowed on Lake Winnepesaukee in 1882 and was won by Harvard. In 1885 and 1889 the crews rowed on the Connecticut river using a three miles course consisting of a mile and a half stretch with a half mile on Lake Quinsigamond followed. In 1872 the crews rowed on the Connecticut river and later on Lake Saratoga. It was not until 1878 that the annual regatta was moved to the Thames at New London and the distance lengthened to four miles.

All told Harvard and Yale rowed exactly fifty varsity races since the initial contest of 1852 and strange to say the score at the end of the 1918 regatta when Harvard swept the river at New London, stood even; each university having won twenty-five contests. It was also a strange coincidence that the Harvard eight of 1915 should have established a new record of 20m 12s. for the four miles in what may be the last race for several years over this historic course. Last season the entry of America into the war caused the abandonment of the scheduled regatta contests and tomorrow's races are strictly a war-time substitute for the usual regatta, which in recent decades has been looked upon as the col legiate rowing classic of the New World.

Each crew has towed one preliminary race this season, Harvard winning from Princeton on Chincotee Lake at Princeton and the Yale oarsmen going down to defeat before the University of Pennsylvania eight on the Schuylkill at Philadelphia. The Harvard combination met the Princeton variety on April 27 over a mile and seven-eighths course winning by one length in 2m. 57s. Two weeks later the Yale oarsmen journeyed to Philadelphia and were easily defeated by the strong Pennsylvania crew by four lengths in a mile and five-sixteenths race, the Quakers time being 5m. 55 1-16s.

HERE & THERE WITH THE SPORTS

Dartmouth Second.

Cornell came through true to form Friday in the preliminary trials for the championship of the Inter-collegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America at Philadelphia the finals of which are to be held on Franklin field today. The Ithacans quailed 16 men in the 11 events for which trials were held Friday. Dartmouth qualified 13 men, well distributed, and Princeton got 11 contestants among the quail ders.

The University of Pennsylvania placed eight men; Pittsburgh, 7; Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Columbia, 6 each; Fordham, 5; Georgetown, 4; Brown, Lafayette and Yale, 3 each; Harvard, Pennsylvania State and Rutgers, two each and Amherst, Johns Hopkins and Swarthmore one each.

Dartmouth men qualifying included D. F. Shen, 120 yard hurdles; W. C. Peers and J. F. Moriarty, high jump; W. W. Purdon and J. C. David, 220 yard dash; J. M. Murray and W. J. Carter, 440 yard run; L. H. Weld and J. C. Hovan, hammer throw; B. E. Myers and J. E. Jordan, pole vault; W. C. Heers, shot, put.

St. Anselm's Losses to Colby

Errors behind Pitcher Reynolds cost St. Anselm's the closing game of the season, to Colby on the holiday. Reynolds contributed some of his best work of the entire season, striking out 14 and holding the visitors to six hits in an 11-inning contest. A tightening up, of one or two infield positions would have pulled the game away from the Maine players. St. Anselm's although its hit column looked rather neglected, had a good chance of leading the game.

Exeter's Big Day

Exeter humbled Andover in the field and track meets Thursday, noting its opponents out of every first place except in one event, the 100-yard dash. It was Exeter's day by a big score. Still, you wouldn't want to say that Exeter won in a walk.

Exeter-Andover Game

The annual Exeter-Andover baseball game will be played at Andover June 8.

Harvard-Yale Boat Race

For the first time in their dual rowing history the varsity eight-oared crews of Yale and Harvard universities will meet at New Haven today in a war-time regatta. Under conditions approaching nearer a college campus atmosphere than any prevailing in the past, the rival combinations will row a two-mile race late in the afternoon on a heretofore untrodden course. The race and its settings will be unlike any since the earliest days of the Yale-Harvard regatta, yet there are indications that the contest will be witnessed by far larger throngs than were anticipated, provided favorable weather prevails.

The two-mile stretch up the Housatonic river above Derby, less than 10 miles from the Yale campus, has been selected for the event at 6 o'clock.

Although the course has never been used before for a crew race the contest will be watched with critical eyes by rowing coaches and experts in view of its possibilities for post-belium regattas. No provision has been made for observation trains and the spectators will have to witness the contest from river banks and automobiles on roads paralleling the river.

NO ORDERS FOR GEN. WOOD YET ISSUED

Washington, June 1.—High War Department officials said today that new orders for Major General Leonard Wood have not been issued and that it was difficult to predict just when they would be issued. A report was circulated this morning that the general would be sent to the Mexican border, but the best commentators within the department said they believed there was no foundation for it. They gave two reasons for the opinion expressed, one that a general was sent to the border only two weeks ago and the other that the sending of so noted and gallant a general as Wood to the border might be offensive to Mexico. The general opinion here is that Wood will receive orders sending him to a commandment, probably Camp Funston, and that he will be advised to hold himself in readiness for active service orders.

New England Fuel Administrator URGES COAL FIRE BE ABANDONED

He says that a ton of coal turned into gas by the gas company has greater fuel value than a ton and a half burned in the kitchen range. We have always told you this. Now why do you keep on using coal when it is so scarce and you can get a better fuel by using gas?

We take pleasure in announcing the engagement of those dancing kids from Lawrence, Master Pierce Cummings and Miss Lois Higgins. These clever artists will be on hand Tuesday and are scheduled to dance at 9.30. Another big feature will be the crowd; scores and scores of dancers with but a single thought, i. e. "Good Time." Dover, Somersworth, Rochester, Sanford, Exeter and Newburyport will be represented and a large local contingent who appreciate our musical efforts by a consistent attendance. Make no mistake, go to Freeman's hall Tuesday evening, 400 Balcony seats at 10c each.

FIFTEEN MEN IN TODAY'S DRAFT

Who Left For Fort Slocum---Four Men
Rejected From Camp Devens Quota

The detachment of fifteen men who left this city this morning for Fort Slocum, N. Y., reported at three o'clock Friday afternoon to the War Record. All but two men answered the roll call, Julius Mysky, whose last address was in North East Carry, Me., up in the lumber camps has not been heard from and Luigi Mercuri of Newmarket, did not get his mail as he notified the Board on Friday that he was in New Bedford, he will probably report some time next week and be sent along.

Carol Douglas Stockbridge of Stratham was appointed leader and Perley D. Hersey of this city second in command. They were put up at the Army and Navy home and left at 8.45 this morning for Nashua where they join the other men from the state and proceed to the Fort.

The following is the roster of the men who left this morning, their call numbers and occupation.

1463 Edward Hale Walton, Jr., Shoemaker, Seabrook, N. H.

1477 Ernest Daniel Junvinn, Shoemaker, Seabrook, N. H.

1502 Carol Douglas Stockbridge, auto machinist, Stratham, N. H.

1555 Edward Lewis Fowler, Sawmill man, Seabrook, N. H.

1566 James Munroe Lamprey, Painter, Beach Road, Hampton, N. H.

1573 Clarence Roscoe Blanchard, Shoemaker, Seabrook, N. H.

1575 William P. Morrissey, Packman, 674 Carroll St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

1576 Arthur Louis Bergeron, Loom Fixer, Box 373, Newmarket, N. H.

1625 Fred Clifton West, Shoe Cutter, East Kingston, N. H.

1633 Floyd J. Rand, 3 Linden St., Sile 3, Alton, Mass.

1640 William Hale Lamprey, Laborer, Nook Lane, Hampton, N. H.

1650 Perley David Hersey, Painter, 54 Lincoln Ave., Portsmouth.

The Local Board have been notified that four men of the men sent to Camp Devens in the last call were rejected for physical reason, one being over weight and the three others for a matter which the department considered could be remedied and upon which a new order has been made since the men left this city. The men sent home are, William H. Silney and James W. Jones of this city, Wilfred Langlois of Newmarket and John W. Dow, Jr., of Seabrook.

The Board recently refused to induct a man into service, who was given the alternative of enlisting in the army or going to jail. It was in the case of John Perino who was arrested here for bringing in liquor and fined in the lower court and subsequently turned over to the United States court. He was a delinquent from the local Board from the fact that he had failed to make out his questionnaire after registering, but he had been reported as a delinquent to the United States District Attorney.

Friday on order from the District Attorney he was discharged from the Portsmouth jail and brought before the local Board and he will later be allowed to make out his questionnaire and be in line for service although an alien.

The Local Board has received another of these famous notices from the District Board to the effect that while they have been lenient in the past that hereafter they will not reopen any more cases and instructing the Local Boards to do the same. The Local Board promptly notified the District Board that the Local Board would not undertake to frame any policy with regards to its attitude toward generally repeating cases in which it has jurisdiction, as in the opinion of the Board it is entirely beyond the scope of its function and every case will be determined upon its merit.

As a matter of fact the Local Board are the sole judges of whether they shall reopen cases and the district board under the regulation had no more authority in the matter than an absolute outsider.

THE ATLANTIC
DAILY NEWS

A recent issue of the Emergency Fleet News contains two pictures of the Atlantic plant in this city showing the work done and also two ways completed with the following reference:

The views here presented indicate the achievement of the Atlantic Corporation, at Portsmouth, N. H., in preparing its yard for building ships. The last papers closing contracts for ships were dated January 5, 1918. After that date the Corporation bought land, made a contract for ship yard construction, placed orders for machinery, alterations to buildings, etc. and by April 1 had removed 90,000 cubic yards of earth, driven hundreds of piles and practically finished the grading of all five shipways, while shipway No. 1 had been completed and was ready for a keel. Only lack of steel prevented the laying of a keel on April 1.

A bluff along the river from 18 to 20 feet high had to be removed for the ways. Since this picture was made the second way has been completed and the third is nearing a finished state.

Instructor Training Center Number Eight of the Emergency Fleet Corporation will begin its activities the first of the week. Men are chosen who have had good experience in the line they are to teach, and they undergo a period of intensive training as teachers, learning how to teach.

After a period of thirty-six days training, during which time they spent at least a week practice teaching, they are turned over to the instruction department and are assigned a group of men whom they take out into the yard, or shop or on the ship and teach them the operations pertaining to the trade. In question, a riveter learns how to drive a rivet by actually doing it on the ship, a drifter is taught right on the job, and all new men instructed in the same way, right on the job.

In this way the men learn faster, are more interested, and are producing while learning.

After he has successfully mastered the operations in which he is being instructed, he is turned over to the production department and assigned a place by the foreman.

This system is being established in most of the shipyards throughout the country, and where already in operation, is meeting success.

Is the HCN working today? Do our boys over there take Saturday afternoon off? Why should we? The patriotism of all shipyard men is appealed to in a bulletin sent out by the United States Shipping Board asking to keep all yards in operation on Saturday afternoon.

The Main Office building is now over its new foundation all ready to be lowered into place.

THE HERALD HEARS

That a foot bridge at Dover Point will be ready in a few days.

That the contractors there have nearly all the piling driven on the highway.

That the new structure looks like a temporary span.

That with all the prosperity and good wages the nickels are still numerous in the box at the baseball games of the Sunset League.

That it came hard for the boys to quit the drums they carried on Thursday.

That 200 Jewish men passed through this city in special cars of the Pullman train on Thursday night.

That they had enrolled under the British flag and were on their way to Canada for service later in Palestine.

That a contest is on between the ship workers at Newington who are working hard to see which ship crew will be ready for launching first.

That Sergeant Major Scully of the marine guard and his baton was much missed at the head of the parade on Memorial Day.

WEDDING THIS AFTERNOON

The marriage of Miss Constance Foster Noyes and Lieut. Allen Pierce Richmond, U. S. A., will occur this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davidson Noyes on Mendham avenue. The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Allen Pierce Richmond of Dover and is now on duty at Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass.

LARGE AUDIENCE EXPECTED

Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the Salvation Army in America, and daughter of William Booth, founder of the Army, will undoubtedly be heard on Sunday morning at the North Church by an audience limited to the seating capacity of the church, on this her first visit to this city. This wonderful woman holds her audiences elsewhere almost spellbound. She is said to have an evocative almost impossible to describe and she is greeted by immense audiences in every city where she appears.

NOTES FROM THE NEWINGTON
SHIP PLANT

A recent issue of the Emergency Fleet News contains the following article on the record made at this yard:

"A frame laying performance for which a record is claimed has been reported to the Emergency Fleet News by Robert Jackson, vice president of the L. H. Shattuck, Inc., Portsmouth, N. H. The yard is building the Ferris type of vessel and recently framed one complete in 70 hours. Framing of the Ferris type is much more tedious than the Hough type, because the latter has but six pieces to a frame while the former has sixteen. The vessel on which the record was made was the company's ninth and the progress that is being made is shown by the fact that the first vessel turned out required eleven days in the framing."

The foot passage at the Dover Point bridge will be completed for use on Monday. All the piling has been driven and capped. The work of constructing the railroad part and the main highway will require some time to complete.
